

Coordinating Conjunctions

Most of the time, we use what we call coordinating conjunctions.

For	Please take your jacket with you, for it is cold outside.
And	I want to order a cheeseburger, and Dinah wants a hot dog.
Nor	I do not like gravy on my turkey, nor do I like cranberry sauce.
But	I can't clean your mess for you, but I will help you!
Or	Do you think dogs are the best, or do you like cats more?
Yet	She has made lots of mistakes, yet she continues to try.
So	Fred did all of his homework, so he can watch a movie now.
