

Name: _____

Date: _____

MAKE IT COME ALIVE!

Personification makes writing come alive by describing something that isn't human as if it could act, feel, or behave like a person.

Plain: The wind blew through the trees.

Personified: The wind whispered through the trees.

PART A

GIVE IT A HUMAN ACTION

Rewrite each sentence using personification.

1. The rain fell against the window.

2. The sun came out from behind the clouds.

3. The old car made a loud noise as it started.

4. The waves moved toward the shore.

PART B

MAKE THE FEELING STRONGER

5. Imagine you are nervous about taking a test.
Finish the sentence using personification.

The test paper _____

6. Imagine it's a beautiful, cheerful morning.
Finish the sentence using personification.

The morning sun _____

Name: Example

Date:

MAKE IT COME ALIVE!

Personification makes writing come alive by describing something that isn't human as if it could act, feel, or behave like a person.

Plain: The wind blew through the trees.

Personified: The wind whispered through the trees.

PART A

GIVE IT A HUMAN ACTION

Rewrite each sentence using personification.

1. The rain fell against the window.

The rain tapped on our window, letting us know it was there.

2. The sun came out from behind the clouds.

The sun peeked out from behind the clouds.

3. The old car made a loud noise as it started.

The old car grumbled and coughed as it started.

4. The waves moved toward the shore.

The waves did somersaults toward the shore.

PART B

MAKE THE FEELING STRONGER

5. Imagine you are nervous about taking a test.
Finish the sentence using personification.

The test paper _____
stared at me and laughed.

6. Imagine it's a beautiful, cheerful morning.
Finish the sentence using personification.

The morning sun _____
woke up and smiled.